

A LIMERICK FOR WOODNET

So, Woodnet's a place you can go
To find woodworkers, all in the know,
Who can give you advice
How to make your work nice
And get all of your ducks in a row.

But you'll have to maintain the right slant.
They mean well, but some people can't
Just follow the threads
Without losing their heads,
And sometimes they'd rather just rant.

One discussion had lasted a while
In classic old Woodnetter style
The subject was glue
Opinions just flew
With many OT by a mile.*

And then, of course, someone was curt
To another, whose feelings were hurt.
Then counter-attack!
Each had to strike back!
The thread soon descended to dirt.

And so, the point of this rhyme
Is to offer a strict paradigm
While Woodnet's not college
It is about knowledge
These fights are a waste of my time.

If you feel in the mood for a spat
Try elsewhere -- we've no use for that
Too bad you were dissed
We don't care if you're pissed
[Don't hijack the thread

While we others continue our chat.
