

According to U.S. Census data from 2004, the top five counties in Florida with the highest number of people under age 18 living in poverty include:

- Miami-Dade County, with 137,497 people under age 18 living in poverty;
- Broward County, with 70,004 people under age 18 living in poverty;
- Hillsborough County, with 50,195 people under age 18 living in poverty;
- Orange County, with 46,612 people under age 18 living in poverty; and
- Palm Beach County, with 40,886 people under age 18 living in poverty.

